MOTION TO PRECLUDE
LAY OPINION TESTIMONY

Re.: U.S. v. Charles Ventura
16 CR 809 (VM)

Dear Judge Marrero:

Two state law enforcement officials were asked to view grainy surveillance videos depicting three men walking and running on a dark rainy street in the Bronx on the night of September 6, 2017. The videos were taken shortly after a shooting at a nearby location. Two of the men were wearing hoodies and the third man had a cloth covering his head. A Field Intelligence Officer with the Housing Bureau of the N.Y.P.D. viewed the surveillance videos and claimed that one of the men appears to be Charles Ventura. A parole officer assigned to supervise Charles Ventura also reviewed the videos and stated that one of the men resembled Charles Ventura.

Upon information and belief the Government intends to offer the testimony of these two officers at trial. The defense moves to preclude this lay opinion testimony from evidence. FRE 702. The jury will be able to view the surveillance videos and the defendant of at trial. They will be able to make their own determination regarding the identity of the men in the video. The officers in questions would not be testifying based upon their law enforcement expertise but rather as lay witnesses offering their opinion regarding the men on the surveillance tape. See United States v. Calhoun, 544 F.2d 291, 295 (6th Cir. 1973) (testimony by lay witness acquainted with the defendant identifying defendant as robber shown in bank surveillance photographs :“teases the outer limits of Rule 702....., whether this testimony was ‘helpful’...is not at all clear”; testimony should have been excluded pursuant to Rule 403. The “hunches” of these witnesses will not assist the trier of fact and will only seek to prejudice the defendant at trial.

In this instance the officers statements that one of the men in the video “resembles” or “appears to be” Ventura are inconclusive and will only serve to unfairly implicate Ventura in criminal activity.¹ This opinion testimony is unreliable and would only usurp the fact finding function of the jury. See 4 Weinstein's Federal Evidence §701.05 (2d ed 20049) (noting that Courts should be wary of opinion testimony whose “sole function is to answer the same question that the trier of fact is to consider in its deliberations”). United States v. Garcia, 413 F.3d 201 (2d Cir. 2010); United States v. Grinage, 390 F.3d 746 (2d Cir. 2004).

Ventura contends that the officers’ hunches and opinions will not be helpful to the jury, have limited probative value and should be excluded from evidence because they are unduly prejudicial. FRE 403, 701.

Respectfully yours,

JB/dw
